

SENATE AMENDS STATE OLD AGE PENSION BILL

RESPONSIBILITY BY RELATIVES IS ELIMINATED

Illinois Will Pay $30 Monthly To Aged Persons

By Curtis R. Hay, Associated Press Staff Writer, Springfield, Ill., Dec. 4.—(P)—Before adjourning until next Tuesday night, the Senate this afternoon shot several holes in the House old age pension bills which Democratic-supported amendments which were exactly contrary to the stand of the House majority when it passed the measure.

Principal changes made in the measure before it was advanced to third reading included restoration of a $550 exemption annually as compared with the previous provisions of $380 income exemptions; clarification of the provisions pertaining to the amount of the pension, making it clear that the state will pay $30, half of which will come from federal funds; and elimination of a House provision for relatives' responsibility.

The latter amendment was the target for a Republican attack in the House last month with Democrats riding over opposition to the provisions for relatives' responsibility for aged persons. Today it was the Republicans who fought elimination of the responsibility provisions and the Democrats who put it over.

The increase in the amount of exemption was a surprise, since during a recess the Democrats caucused and decided against the boost. When Senator Carl Behrman, of Peoria, called up the amendments, however, they returned themselves and voted with him. He was also sponsor of the relatives' responsibility amendments.

Urges Industry To Use Advertising

New York, Dec. 4.—(P)—Picturing business and politics as rivals for the leadership of the American people, Bruce Barton, nationally known sales consultant, urged industry today to choose advertising as its weapon for the conflict.

In an address prepared for delivery before the congress of American industry, in conjunction with a convention of the National Association of Manufacturers, Barton said:

"Fundamentally, the people of the United States think they should have a better life, more comfort, more security, more opportunity, more hope. What they are likely to do is to make a choice between industry and politics as to the easiest method of achieving all these benefits."

Industry and politics at the moment, are competitors for the confidence and favor of the same patron, the public.

Pointing to the accomplishments of the automobile, farm implements, electrical, and steel industries as examples of the benefits of business leadership, Barton said, "We have a story to tell, but we do not tell it."

Barton then asserted, "this story should be told with all the imagination and art of which modern advertising is capable."

For Jacksonville and vicinity—Cloudy and somewhat warmer weather is predicted for today. Friday will be cloudy, becoming unsettled.

The U. S. Cooperative Weather Bureau at the Norbury Sanitarium last night gave temperatures as: high 36; current 28 and low 12.

Barometer readings were: A. M. 30.61; P. M. 30.48.

Illinois—Cloudy, somewhat warmer in south and east portions Thursday; Friday cloudy, becoming unsettled in north and central portions.

Indiana—Cloudy Thursday and Friday, somewhat warmer Thursday; Wisconsin—Cloudy Thursday and Friday; colder in north portion Thursday.

Missouri—Increasing cloudiness Thursday, becoming unsettled Friday; showers probable in west and north portions, warmer in south portion Thursday.

Iowa—Cloudy Thursday and Friday; snow probable Friday and in southwest portion Thursday; warmer Thursday.

WARNS AGAINST GOVERNMENTAL INTERFERENCE

Alfred P. Sloan, Jr., Says Business Men Must Act

New York, Dec. 4.—(P)—Alfred P. Sloan, Jr., president of General Motors Corporation, warned American business tonight that it must become active and assume broader responsibilities or face the alternative of increasing governmental interference.

"Industry," he said, "must further expand its horizon of thinking and action. It must assume the role of enlightened industrial statesmanship. To the extent that it accepts such broadened responsibilities, to that degree does it assure the maintenance of private enterprise."

"Inaction will ultimately mean the challenging of industry's position. Failure will bring, sooner later, the urge for more and more interference from without, government in business."

Sloan's warning, coupled with critical analysis of current governmental trends, was contained in an address before the 1935 congress of American business and the 40th annual meeting of the National Association of Manufacturers.

"It is my firm conviction," he declared, "that any form of government regulation of industry is bound to result in an ever increasing interference with the broad exercise of initiative—the very foundation of the American system."

"This is the natural evolution of bureaucracy. If that be so, might not the ultimate logical result be the necessity for the socialization of industry through the breakdown of the profit system induced by the accumulative effect of the ever increasing political management?"

"We do not need to go far afield to see definite evidences of that possibility. I am convinced that industry should stand united and adamant against such a proposal."

Sloan, at this juncture, termed "unfortunate" the Dec. 9 Washington conference called by Major George L. Berry, coordinator of industrial recovery, for consideration of new federal legislation dealing with industrial regulation.

Mercury Sinks To Lowest Point Of Season Wednesday

Detroit Reports Coldest Dec. 4 In 62 Years, With 6 Above Minimum

Chicago, Dec. 4.—(P)—The mercury sank to its lowest point of the season in many communities today with heavy snows reported in sections of the east. Detroit reported its coldest Dec. 4 in 62 years, with a minimum of six above but that was mild compared to the 15 below at Owl's Head, "Ice Bob" of upstate New York. Six inches of snow covered much of the upstate New York area and 1,000 men were at work in western and northwestern Pennsylvania keeping the highways clear after a heavy fall.

In New York City the weather bureau was about ready to admit the record for the date of 10 above in 1905 was broken. Transient, lodging houses were crowded as a 38 mile an hour northwest wind heightened the suffering in the metropolitan area.

Ohio, with a minimum of two below at Lima, reported one death from the cold. One man was burned to death when fire destroyed a tavern at Tomah, Wis. It was Milwaukee's coldest day of the year, with a minimum of 13.

Temperatures over the middle west and adjacent areas ranged from 3 below at Bemidji, Minn., to 21, coldest since last year, at Philadelphia. Chicago had clear skies and a 16 minimum. Fort Wayne was Indiana's chilliest with 4 above.

It was clear and crisp in the Rockies, with normal temperatures along the Pacific coast.

Chicago, Dec. 4.—(P)—Despite cold weather WPA projects will be continued, Robert J. Dunham, state administrator, said today. Advising those employed on projects that "cold weather was no excuse for not working," Dunham added: "I've been told that asphalt can be laid in temperatures as low as 20 degrees."

OLIVER PARKER DIES

Tuscola, Ill., Dec. 4.—(P)—Oliver Lincoln Parker, 75, former treasurer of Douglas county and chairman of the county board of supervisors for 20 years, died today.

Parker was born in Vermillion county and came to Douglas county with his parents in 1869.

He served as circuit court clerk and was prominent in business circles.

WORKMAN KILLED

Kewanee, Ill., Dec. 4.—(P)—Jack Foley, 30, of Wyanett, Ill., was killed today when a five-ton conveyor he was moving at a lumber yard fell on him.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Clampt of the Joy Prairie neighborhood were callers in the city yesterday.

President Roosevelt Tells Group of Farmers That He Favors Lower Interest Rate

By Francis M. Stephenson, Associated Press Staff Writer, Warm Springs, Ga., Dec. 4.—(P)—President Roosevelt was represented today as favoring further agricultural aid in the form of lower interest rates on mortgages and in land purchases by tenant farmers.

A group of fellow Meriwether county farmers who called at the "Little White House" on Pine Mountain said the president expressed himself during a discussion of farm problems which lasted almost an hour.

The farmers, described as substantial land owners, were invited to the presidential cottage at the instance of the Rev. W. G. Harry, mayor of Warm Springs.

Mr. Roosevelt frequently has expressed the opinion that interest rates of private companies are too high and he was said today by Judge Renter Terrell of Greenville, one of the delegation, to have favored a maximum rate on farm loan as low as three and a half per cent.

WALLACE SAYS AAA PERMANENT INSTITUTION HIS 'PLEDGE' DRY DECLARE

Secretary Ready To Carry Out Fdr's Mandate

Chicago, Dec. 4.—(P)—Secretary of Agriculture, Henry A. Wallace today envisioned the AAA as a permanent institution regardless of the stand the supreme court takes on the constitutionality of its present structure.

The secretary disclosed he was prepared to carry out President Roosevelt's mandate that the agricultural adjustment administration continue to control the nation's farming industry and declared acceptable substitutes were ready and would be pushed into the breach should the high tribunal knock the whole AAA or any part of it out of the New Deal structure.

He enumerated eight available alternatives for the processing tax, levied by a general sales tax and highest income taxes.

Wallace spoke of the AAA with enthusiasm.

"It has worked better than I anticipated," he said. "The farmer cooperation has been wholehearted."

"I venture to say that no matter what party is in power, something of the sort will continue."

The cabinet member made his assertions in the dead center of the current capital of American agriculture—the big amphitheater housing the 36th annual international livestock show.

The processing levy has been attacked in scores of suits by packers, millers and other processors. The supreme court is expected to decide the issue at its current term. The levy is the code of the administration's farm program. Through it the AAA raises the funds for paying benefits to farmers to enable the government to regulate crop production.

These are the substitutes Wallace mentioned:

1. Raise the money for acreage control by a general sales tax.

2. Raise it by higher income taxes.

3. Control production by compulsion, giving each farmer a quota and taxing each farmer if he markets more than that quota.

4. Use a combination of stabilization purchases and loans to farmers on commodities in years of large crops and low prices. Given an initial capital of a billion dollars, perhaps more, a government agency might offer loans above the market price much as has been done with the 1933 crop, provided borrowers agree to reduce acreage by some specified amount the following year and that enough farmers accept loans to make the plan effective on supply.

5. Drop production control entirely but use instead marketing control with each farmer given his prorated share of the domestic market at a fixed domestic price and with the surplus flowing into the foreign markets at whatever the world market price may be, this is known as the "pro rate two price" system.

6. Drop production control and restore foreign purchasing power by lending approximately $500,000,000 annually to foreign nations.

7. Drop production control and restore foreign purchasing power by lowering tariffs sufficiently to cause imports to exceed exports by at least $500,000,000 annually.

8. Use some combination of these different methods.

Wallace deemed compulsory marketing control a project "not generally desired." He frowned on wholly voluntary control on a cooperative basis, too. He said:

"I think it is better to have the government as a rallying point."

OFFERED CONTRACT

Minneapolis, Dec. 4.—(P)—William P. O'Connell was repaid today for all the embarrassment resulting from his resemblance to Richard Arlen, the actor. A moving picture company offered him a year's contract as a stand in for Arlen.

EMBARGO ON ALL WAR MATERIALS BEING PLANNED

More Drastic Law Is Being Drafted On Capitol Hill

Washington, Dec. 4.—(P)—A new blow aimed by Secretary Hull at "abnormal" exports to Italy and Ethiopia today turned new attention to possible moves in the coming Congress to authorize the embargoing of all "war materials" to belligerents.

The battle lines for a lively tussle over new neutrality legislation, into which this question will enter, already have been drawn on Capitol Hill with the tentative drafting in senatorial quarters of a measure much more drastic than the present law.

Whether the administration will seek specific authority to ban or arbitrarily to limit certain materials outside of arms and ammunition has not been disclosed. Official spokesmen, however, already have urged more authority for the president, and have suggested the imposition of a quota system on such exports.

Secretary Hull's statement today that the government had not changed its policy, and was determined to do all possible to hold down abnormal exports, was made at his regular press conference. It parried a direct question as to whether new embargo powers would be sought of Congress.

Presumably, such materials as scrap iron, copper and oil might fall under such a ban. The stir over the latter commodity largely had subsided today, following Secretary Ickes' move yesterday to disavow advocacy of a voluntary embargo and align himself with the administration's present policy of discouraging "excessive" exports.

Secretary of State Hull told newsmen he had received no information concerning the Standard Oil Company's position with regard to supplying Italy with much-needed oil. He indicated, however, that the state department was looking into the matter.

The present neutrality law now makes it mandatory for the president to embargo arms, ammunition and "implements of war" on the outbreak of hostilities between other nations. Usually well informed quarters, however, have expressed the belief that it does not now empower him actually to embargo other items and that further specific congressional authority would be needed for this.

China Clipper Has Completed Fourth Leg Of Journey

Flies From Midway Island To Honolulu In Nine Hours 45 Minutes

Honolulu, Dec. 4.—Via Pan American Airways Radio—(P)—The China Clipper completed the fourth leg of her first eastward trans-Pacific flight at 5:27 p. m. (9:37 p. m., Central standard time) arriving here after a hop from Midway Island requiring 9 hours, 45 minutes.

After Captain Edwin Musick and his crew glided the 25-ton airmail carrier to a landing, ending the 1,323 mile flight, three customs men made the first trans-Pacific airplane inspection in Honolulu's history.

Under direction of Walter Doyle, collector of customs, they examined baggage of Pan American Airways employees who were brought here from Midway and Wake Island bases. Four hundred spectators saw the ship arrive.

The China Clipper has slightly more than 13,900 miles to her record since leaving Alameda, Calif., Nov. 22, for Manila to establish trans-Pacific airmail service.

The PAA Airmail Charter allows 70 hours for the eastward crossing, a schedule which Captain Musick believes he can fill easily. It took about 60 hours flying time from Alameda to Manila 8,000 miles.

Tomorrow afternoon, at Musick's discretion, the ship will leave for Alameda. It is due "home" Friday afternoon.

DIES OF BURNS

Blytheville, Ark., Dec. 4.—(P)—A. A. Gossell, Jr., 10, of Wauconda, Ill., died of body burns today, the third fatality resulting from an automobile wreck in southeast Missouri last night.

The child's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. C. K. Werden of Wauconda, were burned to death.

Mrs. A. A. Gossell, the child's mother, and Franklin, 12, a brother, were in critical condition.

The family car crashed into a parked truck and burst into flames.

AMENDMENTS EFFECTIVE

Frankfort, Ky., Dec. 4.—(P)—Repeal and old age pension amendments to the state constitution became effective today when Gov. Ruby Laffoon officially proclaimed them ratified.

The action of the governor followed the decision of the Court of Appeals yesterday in which the vote favoring repeal, contested by the dyes, was declared valid.

ANGLO-FRENCH PEACE NOTE TO ITALY FORESEEN

80 Year Old Man Obtains License; No Rush Wedding

Chicago, Dec. 4.—(P)—John Hahn, 80, of Des Plaines, obtained a marriage license here today, but said he did not plan to rush the wedding.

Referring to Lillian Snyder, 72, of Chicago, whose name was on the other half of the license, Hahn said: "I want to see first what kind of housekeeper she is. I miss hot meals since my wife died three months ago, and it's kind of tough living alone with no one to talk to."

By Richard G. Massock, Associated Press Foreign Staff, Paris, Dec. 4.—(P)—A joint Anglo-French request to Premier Mussolini to submit his peace terms before the League of Nations is forced to vote an oil embargo was reported as a possibility tonight in informed circles.

This move might be drafted when Sir Samuel Hoare, British foreign secretary, confers with Premier Laval here Saturday on the war situation.

Late today M. Laval received Vittorio Cerruti, the Italian Ambassador, presumably to discuss the French desire that Il Duce take some step toward a settlement.

Only stony silence thus far has met Laval's efforts to have Rome indicate on what basis it will negotiate or even whether Italy is ready to negotiate at all.

Laval is said to favor a joint note with the British minister in the belief a further sign of Franco-British solidarity would make Il Duce more willing to disclose his desires.

Although it was suggested in some quarters that Laval might ask for a week's delay in application of the oil embargo, an informed source said "the embargo undoubtedly will be imposed."

Differences of opinion existed between French officials and certain diplomats as to the possibility of a territorial concession to Italy to end the war.

Officials said the League could grant Italy nothing but economic advantages under an international agreement.

A spokesman for diplomatic circles, however, said Laval will try to obtain an agreement with Hoare upon how much Ethiopian territory could be offered Mussolini as a basis for peace.

Italy's Monarchs Plan To Support Premier Mussolini

Queen Promises To Turn Over Two Royal Wedding Rings To Government

Rome, Dec. 4.—(P)—Italy's monarchs showed the people today they stand with Premier Mussolini in his fight against the 52 nations applying sanctions.

Queen Elena wrote Il Duce, promising that the two royal wedding rings would be turned over to the government on Dec. 18, the date set by Italy's women for a collection of wedding rings throughout the country.

King Victor Emmanuel cancelled the traditional New Year's reception to diplomats and governmental officials. The sovereign thus will avoid shaking hands with the ambassadors of the besieging countries.

Fascists construed these two actions as a definite effort to show the public that the monarchs approve Il Duce's invasion of Ethiopia and his defense against League of Nations penalties.

They said it would be normal for the king and queen to turn over their wedding rings to the women who organized the movement, which may expect to yield 1,000,000,000 lire (about $80,000,000). Instead, the queen informed the premier directly.

The Prince and Princess of Piemonte followed the example of the sovereigns in presenting their wedding rings to the federal secretary at Naples.

They also contributed a considerable quantity of gold melted down from their personal possessions.

The prince, whose name is Umberto, is the son of the king and queen and the heir apparent to the throne.

DENY REPORTS

Rome, Dec. 4.—(P)—The Italian government issued the following communique today through the official news agency:

Several American and English newspapers have published news regarding a supposed petroleum monopoly which the Italian government was said to have conceded to the Standard Oil Company of New York. This news is completely devoid of foundation.

(The report referred to mentioned a subsidiary of the Standard Oil company of New Jersey.)

FRED BRUNNELL DIES

Chicago, Dec. 4.—(P)—Fred W. Brunnell, member of the board of tax appeals and president of a real estate firm, died today. He was 63 years old.

Tarkio, Mo., Dec. 4.—(P)—Included among twenty athletes receiving Tarkio College football letters today were: Bill Eversly and Merlin Feldner, Canton, Ill.; Eugene Brandon, Cuba, Ill.

Final Entanglement
You might notice that a rather important date in the history of American government was recorded the other day when the Nebraska legislature adjourned. Unless a special session is called during the next year, that marked the last meeting of Nebraska's traditional two-house legislature. When the regular meeting time rolls around in 1937, a new, compact, one-chamber body of 43 members will convene.

It is noteworthy, too, that the closing hours of the two-house legislature were snarled up by a deadlock in the conference committee over important legislation which had passed the two houses in varying forms. It is precisely such tangles as that—opening the way to all kinds of political phlegm—which the new system will make impossible.

Nebraska is taking a great step toward more efficient, democratic state government. How long will it be before other states have intelligence enough to follow her example?

"Must" Means Politics
When the secretary of the Legislative Reference Bureau went to Washington, he gained the impression that the Social Security Board would aid age pensions in Illinois dictated by a state set-up. Just who conveyed the impression is not stated, but the Illinois House of Representatives, ever responsive to Washington's slightest wish, has passed an amendment requiring the county pension boards to be appointed thru the state Welfare Department, instead of county judges.

Again Washington has said to Illinois, "You must, or we won't put out any federal cash," and our legislators have again forgotten that state sovereignty ever existed. Politics will play its part in the administration of old age pensions, and a vast political machine with plenty of patronage, will be created thru state dictation of appointments. Washington politicians pulled the strings and the Illinois marionettes danced obligingly.

When old age pensions really get going in this state, who will get them? Will party affiliation mean anything to the applicants? These are questions one can hardly help asking when Washington is so insistent that the machinery be set up just one way, and that way calculated to remove all authority from local and county governments and centralize it first at Springfield and then at Washington. Maybe we are unduly worried, but we hope the big machine, once it gets started, will have a heart and be somewhat human, inasmuch as it is to deal with the helpless aged, who certainly should not be handled like political baggage.

Behind The Scenes In Washington

Processing Tax Is Almost Ditched . . . but Morgenthau Votes No, So It Stays . . . Touching Solicitude Shown for "Little Fellow" . . . One Slightly Juicy Victory Is Recorded.

By RODNEY DUTCHER
Journal-Courier Washington Correspondent

Washington—The New Deal came so near suspending collection of AAA processing taxes the other day that it wasn't even funny.

Everybody was for it except Treasury Secretary Henry Morgenthau, whose chief job is to collect taxes of all types and descriptions. Everybody that is, except perhaps President Roosevelt, with whom Morgenthau talked before he made his decision.

About 2,000 processing taxpayers have rebelled against the levy and brought injunction suits, which means that 70 per cent of the tax isn't being paid. There are about 47,000 other processors of farm products who pay only 30 per cent of the tax.

At least two-thirds of that 30 per cent are tobacco and sugar manufacturers, who have been paying almost unanimously, but are so relatively few in number that if they were to defy the tax AAA and the Treasury would have about 48,000 small processors, paying from 8 to 10 per cent of the whole tax.

Plead for "Little Fellow"
Secretary Henry A. Wallace, AAA Administrator Chester Davis, and Solicitor General Stanley Reed agreed that the Treasury should postpone collection of processing taxes due Nov. 30 and Dec. 31.

They took the high ground that since "enemies" of the farmer were refusing to pay the tax, these other processors who kept on paying should not be subjected to price-cutting competition from those who were able to cut costs by refusing to pay.

It was recognized, of course, that most of the 48,000 little fellows simply couldn't afford to sue for in-

Open Book Lending Station as Public Project at Ashland

New Library Open Every Day Except Sunday; Other News Notes

Ashland—The Ashland Book Lending Station was opened to the public Monday, Dec. 2, as a project under the P.W.A. It is supervised by Mayor D. E. Wilson, with John T. Lockwood as manager and timekeeper; Ophelia Marion and Carl Ryman as index clerks, and Cletus Carpenter as service man.

The Book Lending Station, or library, is located in the Elmore office building, and the interior has been redecorated very attractively. The library will be open to the general public from 7 a. m. to 6 p. m. each day except Sunday. When not on duty in the building, Mr. Lockwood and his assistants will be occupied in interviewing the townspeople in the interests of a "book drive," by which it is hoped the supply of books will be increased.

Any one having books which may be loaned or donated are asked to notify the above officials. Other books will be available at various times from the state libraries.

These Will Be Given to Children at Christmas

Chief Frank Sullivan of the fire department made known plans yesterday for repairing toys at the fire station, to be distributed to children in needy families at Christmas time. During their leisure moments, the firemen will work at repairing toys, reconditioning and repainting them, so that they will be received with joy by many boys and girls.

Several firemen are mechanically inclined, having a knack for making broken mechanical toys run again, while others are skilled with the paint brush. Toys taken to the city hall will be put into the best condition possible.

The reconditioned toys will be distributed to a list of children whose names are furnished through charitable agencies.

J. H. Richter Rounds Out 51 Years With Railroad

Veteran "Q" Section Foreman Here Retires on Pension; Praised by Officials

J. H. Richter, 736 East Chambers street, started work as a waterboy for the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy railroad on August 1, 1881. With a record of more than 51 years with the road, he retired on December 1 this year, having attained the age limit of 70 years. Mr. Richter will receive a pension as a result of his retirement.

In railroad circles it is a well recognized fact that some men run the trains, while others keep them running. Mr. Richter's work always has been in the latter class. All of his years with the Burlington have been spent on roadbed and track maintenance. He saw the roadbed was solid, the rails well-spiked, then stood back and watched the trains go by.

The man at the throttle of a locomotive may enjoy a more glamorous position in the eyes of small boys, and in the romance of railroading, but Mr. Richter has found satisfaction in his own particular job. He knew that the fine trains could not move with safety unless his own work and the work of his crew was done well. It was with the fine old railroad traditions of efficiency, punctuality and constant caution that he spent more than a half a century seeing to it that the trains ran.

Praised by Officials
Mr. Richter's retirement has brought him the congratulations of Burlington officials for his many years of faithful service. He prizes these written plaudits highly.

"I have no more competent foreman on either the Galesburg or Beardstown division," Supp. G. L. Griggs of Galesburg wrote to Mr. Richter on learning that he was to retire from service. "You have impressed me with your earnestness and your desire to perform your duties to the best of your ability."

The veteran track foreman has been going into the pension fund 45 years, so that whether he chooses to work longer at some other task, he is assured of a reward for his long period of service.

His first work on the Burlington was that of a waterboy in the summer of 1881, when he was but 15 years old. He served with a section crew on the Beardstown division, of which Anson Rogers was foreman.

Worked for $1 a Day
At the end of three years Mr. Richter became a full-fledged section hand, swinging a pick and sledge with the best of them. At that time he was located in his home town of Roseville, Ill., and made $1 and $1.10 a day for his labor.

It was during the first few years of his work for the railroad that Mr. Richter was united in marriage. He soon was promoted to section foreman at Roseville where he served 16½ years.

He then quit railroading and bought a farm, but April 1, 1907, the call of his old job became so strong that he went back to work for the "Q". He worked as foreman on the Concord section more than a year, moving then to Bushnell.

Mr. and Mrs. Richter moved to Jacksonville March 1, 1922, and since that time he has watched over the Burlington roadbed in this community. Rain or shine, in sleet and snow, the section foreman went out to see that the tracks were in perfect condition for traffic.

51 Years and 4 Months
The veteran section boss' time with the Burlington figures up 51 years, 4 months, the last 27 years, and 8 months being continuous service.

"I always did my best in the interest of the company," Mr. Richter said in discussing his career with the railroad. "I always tried to live up to the rules and make the work count for them."

Looking back over his half century of railroading, Mr. Richter can recall a number of interesting and exciting events. He sustained a broken ankle a number of years ago, but there were several other times when he barely escaped mishap.

"There had been a wreck on the Beardstown division one night, and we section men didn't know it. We were moving along at a pretty fair clip on our gasoline car when all of a sudden something went wrong with the motor. We got off the car, and there ahead of us about three telegraph poles was the back end of a train which had just been derailed. We thought it was a pretty close shave, and if the gasoline motor hadn't failed, someone very likely would have been hurt."

Railroading today, and in the eighties, is almost as different as day and night, Mr. Richter declared. The trains, type of roadbed and all equipment are much different than that first day when Mr. Richter went to work for the "Q".

15 Car Freight Trains
He recalls that a 900 ton freight train in those days was considered a large one. The freight trains in the eighties consisted of not more than 15 cars, and often two engines were needed on the grades.

Today, 8,500 ton trains are not unusual. The larger and improved locomotives can pull eight or nine times the tonnage the smaller engines did.

Mr. Richter prefers steam trains to the new modern stream-lined flyers, but realizes the railroads have new conditions to meet, and during his last years with the road saw the motor train put to general use. He believes the railroads will continue to meet competition of other means of transportation, particularly on long hauls.

A Railroad Family
Railroading has run in the Richter family. O. B. Richter, a son, was with the Burlington 24 years, part of that time being roadmaster at Beardstown. He retired from the service after an injury several years ago.

Another son, Cecil Richter, was an employee of the Burlington at the time he met death in an automobile accident eleven years ago.

Mr. and Mrs. Richter have five living children: O. B. Richter, Beardstown; William Richter, Peoria; Mrs. Olin Ogborn and Mrs. Erma Widner of Jacksonville and Theodore Richter of Avon, Ill.

Mr. Richter has toiled long and hard, and his friends are glad that he is now able to enjoy some leisure while he is still hale and hearty at seventy years.

During his half century with the railroad he had sometime to look forward to each noon—his lunch pail, well-filled by his good wife before he started to work. Mr. Richter has eaten his lunch from a pail so long that he says it will be difficult to sit down to a table at noon, for a few weeks at least, until he gets used to his new schedule.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE—

Without Colman's—And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Ready to Go

The liver should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily. If this bile is not flowing freely, you feel indigestion, it just decays in the bowels. Gas builds up your stomach. You get constipated. Your bowels even become poisoned and you feel sour, sick and the world looks pink.

Laxatives are only makeshifts. A more permanent remedy is Colman's Little Liver Pills. It takes those good, old Carter's Little Liver Pills to get these two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "and up". Harvest, gentle, yet amazing in making bile flow freely. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills by name. Stubbornly refuse anything else. 25c.

Mothers Will Get Free Trial of Vicks Colds-Control Aids

Every Home in Jacksonville to Receive Package—With Home Guide to Fewer and Shorter Colds, and Proof from Clinic Tests

OVER 14,000 IN TESTS
Show How School Absences Caused by Colds Were Cut Almost Half (40.20%)

Mothers in this vicinity will welcome the free trial packages of Vicks Colds-Control Aids now being distributed to every home here.

These free packages not only bring you Vicks Vapo-Rub, unique aid in preventing colds, and Vicks VapoRub, modern external method of treating colds—but they also bring all the information you need to follow Vicks Plan for Better Control of Colds.

5,118 Children in School Clinics
The Plan was tested in three series of clinics conducted over a period of three years, among 14,702 people. These tests indicate gratifying results in fewer, shorter and milder colds for those following Vicks Plan.

Especially interesting to mothers are the results from the clinics among 5,118 school children. Children following Vicks Plan lost 40.20% fewer days from school on account of colds. Naturally, results varied with different groups. Some groups made even higher records—savings up to 75.30%. The saving of 40.20% was the average for all groups following Vicks Plan.

Prove It In Your Family
In your own family group, too, individual results from Vicks Plan may vary. But the high average of its success in these clinics suggests its very real possibilities for your household—possibilities that only your thorough trial of the Plan can disclose.

That's why this trial package with details of the Plan, and samples of Vicks Aids to Better Control of Colds is being sent to your home. Test the samples—follow the Plan—then watch results!

If you fail to get your free package within the next few days, write to Vicks, 404 Milton St., Greensboro, N. C., and one will be sent to you, post-paid, by return mail. (Adv.)

Now That Thanksgiving's Past— It's Pork Time . . . .

By MARY E. DAGUE
NEA Service Staff Writer

Thanksgiving weather, father says—and that means pork often than turkey in our home.

Since pork roasts are quite simple in structure they are easy for the host of little experience to carve. A point in their favor for parties.

The crown roast of pork which is the most festive in appearance is one of the easiest of all to carve. The butcher in preparing it must cut the ribs apart at the backbone. In carving the roast, insert the carving fork at the left and to the back of the roast. The knife is then inserted between two ribs to the right, and the ribs are cut apart. Continue this around the crown until all have been served. One rib served with some of the filling of the crown makes a portion.

In ordering a loin roast, be sure to ask the butcher to cut the backbone side up. The carver puts in the fork toward the thick end of the joint. The knife is inserted at the top in the knuckle end and a straight clean cut down to the bone is made. Continue in this way, making thin even slices until all are helped. Two thin slices usually are given as a portion.

A fresh, unboned ham is carved in the same way, always cutting at right angles to the bone.

A boned and stuffed fresh ham is easy to manage since there is no bone to cut around. The procedure is the same as for the baked smoked ham. Thin slices are cut straight through the meat and stuffing.

Spareribs are carved by cutting between the ribs and serving as many as wanted for each person.

Spareribs and Sauerkraut
Four cups sauerkraut, 2 tablespoons cracker crumbs, 2 pounds spareribs, 4 cups hot mashed potatoes.

Put sauerkraut in baking dish or roaster, scattering cracker crumbs through it. Put spareribs on top and add 1 cup water. Cover and bake in a moderate oven (375 degrees F.) for two to three hours. Lift out spareribs and brown quickly in a frying pan. Cover kraut with mashed potatoes and return to oven for ten minutes to make very hot and slightly brown the top. Serve kraut and potatoes from taking dish and spareribs from a separate platter.

FIGHT COLDS WITH NEW WEAPON

Get this new cold protection and see how quickly and thoroughly it acts. You've never experienced such comfort—or such real relief. It differs from any cold remedy that you have ever used before. It is a high-speed, highly volatile preparation that penetrates like steam!

Pine Balm vaporizes instantly and spreads through the entire cold area—clear down to the bronchial tubes—before you can count ten.

Those distressing cold symptoms simply vanish in the volatile vapors of Pine Balm. For head colds, and chest colds; and attendant local congestion or soreness. For sore throat; no gargle or spray that was ever devised brings the same comfort.

This new treatment has been tried out in whole communities with adults and with children, and it has proved to be a real discovery.

Try this improved treatment on your next cold. For only 25 cents!

Illinois College To Open Basketball Schedule Here Tonight

Louisiana State and Texas Christian to Meet In New Orleans for Sugar Bowl Title

New Orleans—(P)—Football teams of Louisiana State and Texas Christian University will match strength in the Sugar Bowl classic here New Year's Day.

The selection of L.S.U., Southeastern Conference champion, and T.C.U., runner-up for the southwestern championship, was announced last night by Warren Miller, president of the Mid-Winter Sports association, which sponsors the game.

Although both teams have lost one game each, they have been rated among the "first five" squads of the country.

L.S.U. dropped the season's opener to Rice, 19 to 7, and T.C.U. lost last Saturday to Southern Methodist University, 20 to 14, in a thriller which brought S.M.U. an invitation to play in the Rose Bowl game.

In the first Sugar Bowl game, last year, Tulane triumphed over Temple 20-14.

Winchester To Meet Old Rivals Friday

Split Even On First Two Games; Material Is Inexperienced

Winchester, Dec. 4.—Winchester high's Wildcats, victors in their first game but defeated in their second of the basketball season, will square away against their old rivals from Pittsfield here Friday night in their opening battle of the Illinois Valley campaign. Winchester is competing in the northern division of the conference.

Faced with the prospects of building a winner out of green material, Coach Andrew Chapman has booked a tough schedule for this season. The schedule calls for 18 games, and one tournament. The annual Winchester invitational tournament is scheduled for Jan. 15-18.

Five seniors, Woodall Coughlin, Hornbeck, Jones, the latter trio lettermen, and Ed McLaughlin, are all that are available for this year's team. Four juniors, Wallace, Flynn, Imboden and Perkins, four sophomores, Owens, Pulliam, Montgomery and Morris, and three freshmen, Pile, Priest and Kirkpatrick, make up the varsity squad at present.

Two boys from Ailey, Leitz and Bill McLaughlin, along with Coughlin, another senior, are looking good at present and probably will be in the Wildcat line-up against Pittsfield Friday night. Last year's second string center is out of the season as the result of a broken leg sustained in the Pleasant Hill football game.

The schedule is as follows:

Dec. 6—Pittsfield here.

Dec. 13—Fettershans (Springfield) here.

Dec. 16—At Jacksonville high.

Dec. 19—Murrayville here.

Dec. 31—Ashland here.

Jan. 3—Griswold here.

Jan. 10—At Pittsfield.

Jan. 11—Jerseyville here.

Jan. 15-18—Winchester tournament.

Jan. 21—At Ailey.

Jan. 24—At Pleasant Hill.

Jan. 25—At White Hall.

Jan. 31—At Bluffs.

Feb. 1—At Roubt.

Feb. 4—Jacksonville here.

Feb. 7—At Roodhouse.

Feb. 11—Roubt here.

Feb. 14—Pleasant Hill here.

Feb. 18—At Grigsbyville.

Feb. 21—Bluffs here.

Knox Cagers Will Play Illini Dec. 28

Galesburg, Dec. 4.—Twenty candidates for the Knox College basketball team reported to Coach Dean Trevor for the opening practice this week. Three letter men: Co-Captain Crandall, center; Co-Captain Donaldson, forward; and Ericson, guard, are available from last year's Mid West Conference championship team. In addition to these, seven reserves and ten members of last year's freshman team will be competing for starting positions.

Trevor is starting his tenth year as Knox basketball coach and has arranged a schedule of sixteen games, the first outstanding contest being played December 28, when the strong University of Illinois team invades Galesburg.

The complete schedule follows:

Dec. 20—Lake Forest, here.

Dec. 28—Univ. of Illinois, here.

Jan. 10—Cornell, there.

Jan. 11—Coe, there.

Jan. 14—Monmouth, here.

Jan. 18—Coe, here.

Jan. 25—Carthage, there.

Feb. 1—Cornell, here.

Feb. 6—Lake Forest, there.

Feb. 7—Ripon, there.

Feb. 8—Lawrence, there.

Feb. 15—Bradley, here.

Feb. 18—Monmouth, there.

Feb. 21—Carleton, here.

Feb. 26—Bradley, there.

Feb. 29—Beloit, here.

Southern Football History Rewritten

Atlanta, Dec. 4.—(P)—Football history of the deep south has been virtually rewritten.

Many superlatives were scattered along battlefields of the Southeastern conference at the end of a dazzling 1935 campaign that joined other sections of the nation in leaving football fans groggy from startling upsets.

A general upheaval in Dixie's most uncertain season in years shot several former downtrodden teams into front ranks, left at least one of the pre-season favorites shocked twice or more and turned back pages of southern history generally to 10 and 20 years ago.

A sensational uprising in the Mississippi delta, the fall of consistent powerhouses and a general form reversal all along the line are featured in outstanding "bests," "worsts," or "first time in years" such as:

Louisiana state at the peak of the field for the first time in 17 years.

The south without an undefeated major eleven for the first time in 23 years.

Downfall of Alabama, Tennessee and Tulane, a trio that lost 11 and tied one in 28 games.

Tennessee, in its most disastrous season since 1924, lost more games than it won for the second time in 24 years.

HORTON SMITH RESIGNS

Fan Breezes

By Ernest Savage

Illinois College may have just as strong a basketball team as it had last year, but there is a little lingering doubt in our mind that the Blue-boys of this year can come up to the time record they made last year.

As we see it, and we probably don't see it the same as the coach, it all depends on Sulo Mattson. Sulo, a Finnish boy with a great physique and a desire to get someone in the basketball world, is the best candidate to replace Jimmy Winn we have seen on the squad.

Mattson gave up football this year because he did not want to get any injuries which might handicap him as a basketball player. He has taken up basketball instead. He was head and shoulder above the rest of the boys in the inter-mural league at the college last year, and would have been on the varsity squad, had he tried to make it.

We don't expect Mattson to be as good as Winn this year, and perhaps he never will come up to some of the sterling performances that were a matter of course with "Slim Jim." But he is going to give just a few surprises this year.

Six foot one inch tall and weighing right around 185-190 pounds, Mattson has developed remarkably in physique since he came to college. He is a sophomore here.

Van Meter is looking around for competition for his freshman team and probably will spring a curtain raiser to the college opener tonight, in which Wellbourne, former McKendree college center, Herb Scheffler, former Springfield high center, and some of the other boys will take part.

Bloomington has adopted a novel means of giving its Christmas goodwill campaign a boost. Each of the four prep teams in Bloomington will appear in a basketball game, during which each team will play each other for one quarter. The winner will be decided by the team which scores the most points during its half of competition.

Returning to the good old American idea of benefits, the gymnasium for the affair has been donated, officials are donating their services, and all workers around the place are giving their time.

Jacksonville boxers came out on the short end of the horn in the dual match with Bloomington, Monday night. Floyd Spannhover was the only local fighter to come off with a

Brundage Supports Campaign For U.S.

Says Most Of The Athletes Want To Go If They Have To Pay Costs

Chicago—(P)—Avery Brundage, president of the American Olympic Committee, said today United States athletes favor going to 1936 Olympics at Berlin even if they must pay their own expenses.

Despite opposition by groups urging nonparticipation because of alleged Nazi religious and racial discrimination, 138 out of 139 athletes who have written to him favored taking part, Brundage said.

"To those alien agitators and their American stooges who would deny our athletes their birthright as American citizens to represent the United States in the Olympic games in Germany," Brundage said, "our athletes reply in modern vernacular: 'Oh, yeah!'"

"Our women skiers, competing in the Olympics for the first time raised their own funds in a few days."

"If malicious propaganda makes it necessary," he concluded, "the members of the summer teams will do the same. Our athletes and patriotic sportsmen are showing the world that they will not be made martyrs to a cause not their own, and cannot be handicapped by subversive influences."

Because of inadequate funds, Brundage said, the men's ski team had to be divided into three sections according to ability. There was money enough for the first groups expenses. For the second group there was enough to pay part of the expense. There was no money for the third section.

"As a result," Brundage said, "all except one athlete selected have completed, by personal activity, the fund needed for their expenses. There are 15 on the team."

Big Six All-Star Team Named By A.P.

Kansas City, Dec. 4.—(P)—The three musketeers of Nebraska's crack backfield—Lloyd Cardwell, Sam Francis and Jerry Lanoue—travel together on the Associated Press Big Six conference All-Star football team, selected by coaches, sports writers and other authorities.

The selections announced today, show five members of the champion Nebraska eleven on the first team, three from Kansas, and one each from Oklahoma, Iowa State and Kansas State. Missouri was not represented.

The team:

Ends: Bernard Scherer, Nebraska, and Rutherford Hayes, Kansas.

Tackles: Fred Shrier, Nebraska, and J. W. Wheeler, Oklahoma.

Guards: Dick Sklar, Kansas, and Ike Hayes, Iowa State.

Center: Edwin Phelps, Kansas.

Quarterback: Leo Ayers, Kansas State.

Halfbacks: Lloyd Cardwell and Jerry Lanoue, Nebraska.

Fullback: Sam Francis, Nebraska.

Cardwell came closest to rating a unanimous choice. The high-geared cornhusker had one second team vote.

Murrayville callers in the city yesterday included Clarence Neighbors.

Notre Dame 1936 Grid Schedule

South Bend, Ind., Dec. 4.—(P)—Elmer Layden, Notre Dame's director of athletics and football coach, today announced the 1936 Irish football schedule of nine games. Washington U. of St. Louis replaces Kansas on the chart with all other 1935 opponents being retained.

The schedule:

Oct. 3—Carnegie Tech at Notre Dame.

Oct. 10—Washington U. at Notre Dame.

Oct. 17—Wisconsin at Notre Dame.

Oct. 24—Notre Dame at Pittsburgh.

Oct. 31—Ohio State at Notre Dame.

Nov. 7—Notre Dame vs. Navy at Baltimore.

Nov. 14—Notre Dame vs. Army at New York.

Nov. 21—Northwestern at Notre Dame.

Dec. 5—Notre Dame at Southern California.

ASHLAND FIVE WINS FROM CHANDLERVILLE

Ashland, Dec. 4.—Lynn, Ashland guard was high scorer tonight as the locals defeated the Chandlerville quintet 25-18.

Towering Diamond Oilers to Give Little 19 Co-Champs First Competition of Year

Probable Starters.

Diamond Oilers	Pos.	Illinois
Churovich	F.	C. Fletcher
Roth	G.	F. May
Whitler	C.	Laster
Atterberry	G.	V. Fletcher
Thacker	G.	Mattson

Time—8 p. m.
Place—I. S. D. gymnasium.

Illinois College's defending co-champions of the Little 19 college conference will get their first test under fire tonight on the Illinois School for the Deaf boards when they meet the towering Diamond Oilers, of Carlinville, in their first Jimmy Winn-less game in four years.

The visiting delegation, which boasts an average height of six feet two inches, and a record of finishing third in the state amateur independent team tournament last year, comes with a record of 169 victories and 17 defeats in the last four years of play. Headed by Al Whittier, six foot three inch center, the Diamond quintet has two players, Wilkerson, a guard, and Fulton, a forward, six feet five inches tall, Thacker, a six foot four inch guard, Whittier and Roth, both six feet three inches tall, Churovich, a six foot one inch forward, Atterberry, a six footer, and Shannon, five foot 10 inches tall. John P. Goble is manager of the team.

Expect Tough Battle.

Coach LaRue Van Meter is looking for plenty of opposition for his untitled team of this season. He has Louis Laster, who led the conference in scoring for the second straight year last year, back at center with his six feet and 10 inches, and the two Fletcher brothers, Cecil and Virgil, who were the boys that made a champion hip team out of the Blue-boys last year by their clever play.

Freddie May, Jacksonville high's sensational shot making ace of last year, is slated to get the call for the opening game, but the other starting position is far from being determined. Originally it was planned to use Clyde Coddington, a six foot six inch forward, but his ineligibility has forced a change in plans.

Sulo Mattson, baseball flinger and one of the outstanding players in the college intra-mural league last year, is favored to get the opening position, but Van Meter also has Abe Fedura, McCullum and Douglas, the latter a freshman available.

Backup Ball Helps Bowler Get Tough No. 10 Pin Spare

By MARIE WARMIBER

Women's Match Game Champion

A good bowler's repertoire generally includes a backup ball to pick spares off the right side of the alley.

An average bowler would do well to practice this delivery, as it is particularly effective in one's ordinary hook has a tendency to roll off into the gutter in picking off the 10 pin.

The backup is delivered more to the left of the alley than the ordinary hook, because it curves to the right and allowance must be made for its path in that direction.

A slight turn of the wrist from left to right is what imparts the reverse English on the ball, and after a bit of practice, one can judge the amount of wrist turn necessary for his particular type of delivery. It may be necessary to move to the left more or back to the right of the alley in order to make the backup work properly, and this, too, will be found in practice.

Sometimes a difficult split, such as the 4-8-10, can be made more easily with a backup ball, because it will hit No. 4 going into it, rather than away from it, as is the case with a regular hook.

OAK PARK PASTOR ADDRESSES GIRLS AT CHAPEL WEDNESDAY

Dr. Morgan Williams, pastor of the Euclid Avenue Methodist church in Oak Park, Illinois, was the guest speaker at MacMurray college, chapel service Wednesday morning.

Dr. Williams is deeply interested in young people, having been for the last three years dean of the Lake Geneva Conference. "Why Do We Do What We Do? Think What We Do. Say What We Do?" the speaker asked. "In other words, what ideals govern the fundamental attitudes of life."

"Are our life motions for our own interests only, those of our own small group, our own country or for the good of humanity as a whole? If we keep the ideals of Christ before us," Dr. Williams ended, "we need never fear, that our life motives will be unfruitful."

Roosevelt Hits Back at Critics

Lashing at his critics and assuring the nation that it could look forward to a "decreasing deficit," President Roosevelt is shown as he spoke to more than 50,000 people gathered on Grant Field, Atlanta, Ga., for the chief executive's "homecoming." The speech was considered by political observers as a reply to ex-President Herbert Hoover, Roosevelt contrasting present conditions with those he found when he took office.

Hines Urges Vets To Avoid Capital

Issues Another Warning to Keep Transients Away from Washington

The Morgan County Red Cross Chapter has received another announcement from Gen. Frank T. Hines, head of the Veterans' Bureau, to the effect that transient veterans must be discouraged from going to Washington. Arrangements were made to enroll in CCC camps those veterans who were stranded in the capital when transient relief was stopped, but these facilities are no longer available.

Unemployed who find themselves in Washington without a job now are treated the same as those of the civilian population. They can get no more advantage than they have in their home communities. Washington agencies also give prior consideration to local transients.

Washington authorities have been persistent in their efforts to stop the flow of transient unemployed into the city, especially if those who make the trip are veterans. Finding a job in Washington is no easier than it is anywhere else in the country.

"IT'S NICE TO LOOK FORWARD TO COMFORTABLE DRIVING THIS WINTER

—that's why we bought our new Ford V-8 now instead of waiting until Spring."

NEITHER cold nor slush affects the baked enamel finish of the 1936 Ford V-8. Its direct-driven ignition starts the car quickly even on sub-zero mornings. A new Ford needs no tedious "breaking in"—Drive it 60 miles an hour the day you get it, if you want to.

And this year, because the 1936 Ford V-8 came out earlier, you make a triple saving by buying this fall:—You get a bigger allowance on your old car now than next spring. You can drive your new Ford this winter, and it will still be worth as much next year as if you waited until spring to buy it. . . . And you avoid the winter conditioning costs—for battery, tires, brakes, winter lubricants and engine tune-up—you would otherwise have to pay on your old car.

Come in and see the 1936 Ford V-8 today. Let us estimate the saving you can make by driving a comfortable new Ford V-8 through the winter.

various divisions of the Conference. Sessions were held in practically all the churches of Peoria and in the Y. M. C. A.

His address was given in part as follows: "I assume that we are all agreed that both the Church and the State are necessary and ordained of God. I want to raise an old, old question: are the Church and the State coordinate, or is one subordinate to the other? Further, if one subordinate to the other, is the State subordinate to the Church, or the Church to the State?"

"In our own country we have been intent upon the separation of Church and State and complete religious freedom for individuals and denominations. We have thought of the church and the State as having entirely different functions, and we have held rather consistently that one must not invade the sphere of the other. In general, we have thought of religion and morals as the Church's concern, and the purely legal, economic and physical factors of the nation, its laws and its administration, its corporations, and trade regulations as the business of the State. Such distinctions now seem to be too narrow and arbitrary, but the question is, how far shall the State concern itself with morals and religion and how far shall the Church concern itself with laws and economics?"

"We know what has happened to the Church in Russia under the Soviet regime. In Italy the Church has come to terms with Fascism and is distinctly subordinate. In Germany, the Church, both Protestant and Roman Catholic, is fully alive to its peril and is asserting its claims to supremacy in spiritual matters. What the final outcome in Germany will be is doubtful, but there is a chance that the Church may not be completely Nazified."

"What about our own country? I think it is evident that even in this country where there is still such a large measure of civil and religious liberty a crisis is approaching, similar in some respects to the one which has taken place in Germany."

Crisis, Causes
"This crisis is due to a number of causes, but very largely, I think, to the growing realization that war is an evil and subversive to every Christian principle."

Baptist Church Play, Thursday 8 p. m. Adm. 25c.

moral and spiritual ideal and value and to a determination not only to have no part in it, but to rid the world of it. Upon examination, the Church has found that war has more than the single traditional theological cause, namely, the sinfulness of human nature. One of the main roots of war is national sovereignty. Other chief causes are economic—the struggle for raw materials and foreign markets, the protecting of foreign investments, the profits from the sale of war materials, particularly munitions, and the pressure of population upon the territory of the nations. All this has led the Church to view the established economic order much more critically.

"Very rapidly, now, the Church is awakening to the fact that national sovereignty and war in capitalism cannot be squared with the teaching of Jesus and, more over, that the Church is part and parcel of or hand and glove with the present economic order and is being carried along towards totalitarianism, which means in the end complete subjection, if not utter annihilation."

"If the situation is as I have outlined it, what can the Church, by which I mean the responsible leaders of the Church, do?"

"1. Teach and preach the ethical and religious principles of Christianity, showing their social as well as their individual application. Set goals both for individuals and society which are in harmony with the spirit and the teaching of Jesus."

"2. Insist that the Christian faith demands social and political expression. No political order can be countenanced by the Church which makes the individual citizen a mere creature of the State."

"3. Take political action. When I recommend this, I do so with strong reservations. There are some who hold to the position that the Church must always be neutral when political choices are to be made. I for one cannot agree with them. There are often legislative measures which have as their objective the putting into effect of some great moral purpose of the Church, such as the abolition of child labor, which the Church may feel obliged to support. Or it may feel it of the utmost importance to resist the passage of a measure providing for a public lottery on the ground that it is subversive to the moral welfare of the people."

"4. Work for the reunion of Christians in one visible Church. Denominationalism has many of the marks of nationalism. How can nations be expected to unite if the Church remains divided? The progress towards union will be slow, but it must be insisted upon. And in the union none of the distinctly valuable characteristics acquired in the experience of the denominations should be lost."

"5. Finally, reemphasize what theologians call the transcendence of God, which means that God is the greatest of all facts or realities, that he exceeds the universe and everything in it, that he is the controlling factor in the affairs of men. The truth is that man and not God has been exalted above all else in these latter years."

"I think the evidence gathered by the scientific sociologist indicates that men are not naturally good and that our social institutions, far from rendering them evil, have done much to civilize them. But it is this false doctrine of Rousseau, as Dr. Miller points out, 'whose logic deprives mankind of a common frame of reference and in the end sets every man against every other man.'"

"Brethren, God and not man should be our frame of reference; and above all, in our preaching, in our teaching, in our worship, and in our conduct, we must exalt God and his sovereign will, as revealed in the person and life of our Lord Jesus Christ. The parable of the Pharisee and the Publican has lost none of its significance. We still need to cry 'Lord, be merciful to me a sinner,' remembering that 'he that humbleth himself shall be exalted.'"

Lines Forming Here For Battle to Keep Alton Trains Going

Visitors Make Towns Along Route to Round Up Big Protest Delegations

Plans to have a large protesting delegation of citizens at the hearing Dec. 17 before the Illinois Commerce Commission on the removal of trains on the Alton, look shape yesterday with the visit in this city of representatives of Roodhouse citizens. After obtaining information and the promise of co-operation, the visitors moved on to other towns along the Alton that will be affected by the further curtailment of passenger service.

The road authorities propose to remove Trains 27 and 28, the only remaining passenger trains on this line. These trains connect with the stream-line service at Bloomington and give good transportation to Chicago. Local citizens, who are using trains for long distance travel more than formerly, are aroused over the situation.

The Jacksonville Chamber of Commerce is lining up a delegation to go to Springfield on the 17th to protest the removal of the trains. Firsthand information will be available to the commission when it hears the arguments on both sides.

Epworth League Has Institute Programs

Eighty-five at Meeting Monday at White Hall Methodist Church

White Hall—The Greene County Epworth League Institute met in the White Hall Methodist church Monday night with eighty-five young people present. Rev. A. M. Beger, pastor of the Carrollton Methodist church is dean of the institute, and Rev. A. E. Linfield of White Hall conducted a class on "The Life of Christ." Rev. Milton Wilson of Roodhouse, conducted the class on "The Church and the World." Rev. A. E. C. Pentland of Manchester conducted the class on "World Peace."

Following the class work there was a period of recreation and refreshments were served. The institute will close with the meeting which will be held at Kane next Monday night and a banquet will be served at that time.

Rev. A. E. Linfield will accompany other Methodist ministers of the county to an area meeting held in Peoria Wednesday.

A cafeteria supper was served at the First Baptist church Tuesday evening to welcome the new members who came into the church during the revival which was held in November and a purse of forty dollars was presented the minister, Rev. C. W. Kerst in appreciation of his faithful efforts in preaching and evangelistic labor during the three weeks of the revival. There were about thirty-five additions to the church.

MRS. FINCH EXPIRES NEAR CHANDLERVILLE

Chandlerville—Mrs. Sophia Finch, 72, died at 3 p. m. Monday at her home six miles west of this city after a few days' illness.

Mrs. Finch was the widow of William Finch who died in 1933. A daughter, Mrs. Bessie Sarif, died in 1935. Mrs. Finch is survived by the following children: Misses Maude and Lorena Finch, and Louie Finch, at home; Raymond Finch, Sadora.

Funeral services will be held at Fairview church, near Sadora, at 2 p. m. today. Rev. William Ray, Chandlerville, will officiate and interment will be in Fairview cemetery.

PUT OUT ROOF FIRE ON HARDIN AVENUE

Fire starting from chimney sparks resulted in a small blaze yesterday morning at the home of Paul Laughray, 714 Hardin avenue. The blaze burned over a small patch of shingles, and was extinguished by firemen with a booster pump.

Earlier in the morning, at 7:20 o'clock, the firemen made a run to the home of Conrad Rode, 513 Sandusky street, where a flue burned out.

CARD OF THANKS
We wish to extend our heartfelt thanks to the friends of A. T. A. and to all other neighbors and friends who hushed our corn to the ladies who served the lunch and to all who assisted in any way.

Odd Fellows Temple Work Goes Forward

Rebuild Third Floor of Old Gallaher Block to Make Attractive Quarters

Work on the Urania Odd Fellows Temple occupying the third floor of the Gallaher block, is proceeding satisfactorily. The interior of the entire floor is being completely rebuilt. All of the original partitions and rooms were torn out, leaving only the four outside walls.

Plans were made calling for complete new lodge and club quarters for the lodge. The club room occupies the space formerly used as the Masonic lodge room. A dining room much larger than that in the old Urania quarters is being built, together with a kitchen and all necessary equipment. There are several robe rooms connected with the main lodge room, a secretary's office and other necessary rooms.

The main lodge room will be finished in two-tone work and will be most attractive. It is planned to keep the club room open every day. The new quarters will not be ready for dedication for several weeks yet, but the partitions are all in place and work is going forward on lining the walls and putting on ceilings.

STOCKS : BOND
LIVESTOCK
PRODUCE : GRAINRails Are Strong
In Stock Market

By Frank MacMillen,
Associated Press Financial Writer.
New York, Dec. 4.—(P)—Rail shares, with net gains of 1 to 4 points, ran up to a new 1935 high for the second successive session in a last hour burst of speed on the stock exchange today.

Measured by the Associated Press average of 15 rails, this group rose 1.4 to 31.2, to new peak since July 18, 1934. The advance was the widest since Nov. 23 when a rise of 1.6 was scored.

Demand for the carriers, which was attributed to estimates of improvement in November net operating income, helped to stiffen the rest of the market, which had run into fits of profit taking earlier.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks was up 0.5 to 55.6. It was the accumulation of rail issues, brokers said, which stoutened volume to 3,002,741 shares, compared with 1,941,829 on Tuesday. It was the largest turnover since Nov. 25.

Although the market was selective at times, the rails and the coppers found ready takers. The latter somewhat more consistently than the former.

Anaconda and Kennecott both kicked up to new tops. Purchases were attributed to brokerage quarters to the somewhat improved statistical position of copper and the belief that general industrial improvement will benefit in the red metal.

The financial district's liking for the oils was described in terms of recent gossip of a possible price rise for crude midcontinental oil. Officials of large companies would not confirm the rumors, however.

Some analysts explained the buying of oils as the result of recent revival of inflation talk, pointing out that the shares represent a hedge against changes in the purchasing power of dollars.

Choice Steers Are
35 Cents Higher

Chicago, Dec. 4.—(P)—In a market firm to 25 cents higher, choice steers soared to a $13.00 top today, high price since spring and highest for December in five years.

The top price was paid for a load of 21 beefs averaging 1,360 pounds, fed by Edward Reiter, of Cascade, Ia.

Higher quotations were paid by shippers for all strictly good, choice and prime steers and yearlings but lower grade cattle, which predominated the 9,000 head run, were very uneven.

Medium to barely good kinds were easy but common cattle selling at $7.50 down were fully steady. Cows were strong to 15 cents up.

THREE PLEAD GUILTY IN PIKE COURT TO MEAT THEFT CHARGES

Pittsfield, Ill., Dec. 4.—Joseph Moskus and Frank Chantala, and his wife, Marjorie Chantala, all of Pueblo, Colo., today were sentenced in the Pike county circuit court to one year to life in the state penitentiary at Chester on their pleas of guilty to charges of meat thefts from Wabash freight trains.

The trio was arrested on Nov. 12 by Chief of Police Ernie Williamson and their confessions to the meat thefts came on Nov. 16.

Moskus was indicted on Nov. 14 on charges of larceny of a tire and car wheel and Tuesday Judge A. Clay Williams recalled the grand jury and indictments were returned against all three charging meat thefts.

Thousands of pounds of meat were stolen from Wabash refrigerator cars between Hannibal, Mo., and Valley City, Ill., over a period of two and a half years, the grand jury was declared they disposed of the meat to Springfield taverns and business houses. The trio also had rooms in Springfield.

William Gridley, charged with a statutory offense, also pleaded guilty and was sentenced to one to 14 years in the penitentiary.

Orlando Lord pleaded guilty to operating a confidence game and asked probation. Sentence his not been passed pending an investigation by probation officers.

LIBERTY AID SOCIETY ELECTS OFFICERS AT WEDNESDAY MEETING

Officers for the ensuing year were elected at the meeting of the Liberty Aid society, which enjoyed an all day pot-luck luncheon Wednesday at the home of Mrs. Bert Killam, this city. Members of the society engaged in sewing for the hospital during the day.

The meeting of the Pine Point club which was announced for Friday, December 6 at the home of Mrs. Harry Hall on Webster Avenue has been postponed to December 13. The meeting will be held with Mrs. John R. Davis on Webster Avenue.

DOMESTIC SCIENCE CLUB HOLDS MEET AT ROBINSON HOME

Murrayville, Ill., Dec. 4.—The members of the Murrayville Domestic Science Club were delightfully entertained last Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. S. B. Robinson. Fourteen members and the following guests were present: Mrs. Luella Hiden and Mrs. Elsie Tendick.

During the afternoon a very interesting program on trees was presented as follows: Song—Joy To The Sturdy Trees. Club prayer. Pledge of allegiance to the Flag. Business period, conducted by the president, Mrs. E. D. Mawson.

Roll call—Something About Trees. Solo—Trees, Mrs. J. A. Leitz. Paper—Value and Care of Trees, Mrs. W. B. Rimbey.

Reading—Mrs. J. L. Solomon. Closing—America's Creed.

At the close of the program a social hour was enjoyed during which time a lovely refreshment course was served by the hostess.

The next regular meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. H. G. Strang, on Wednesday, December 18.

State Deposits Not Preferred Otto Kerner Says

Rules On Dividend Payments Of Closed Ayers National Bank

Springfield, Ill., Dec. 4.—(P)—In an opinion to State Auditor Edward J. Barrett, Attorney General Otto Kerner today held the state funds deposited in a national bank prior to appointment of a receiver for the bank are not preferred claims.

Barrett recently received $194.86 from the Ayers National Bank of Jacksonville as first and second dividends on a special account of the Guaranteed Bank Corporation, the Winfield State Bank account and the Chicago account. The deposits were made by former Auditor Oscar Nelson.

"The national banking act provides for but one type of preference for claims filed against receivers of insolvent banks—only for moneys to reimburse the United States for advances in redeeming the circulating notes of the bank," the opinion said.

"The federal act makes no provision for their allowance as preferred claims, even though they are funds of a sovereign state. They are common claims."

William Bozarth Dies In Nebraska

Most Of Life Was Spent On Farm In Chapin Community

Word has been received in the city of the death of William L. Bozarth of Hebron, Nebraska which occurred on Saturday, November 30 at his home. Mr. Bozarth lived the greater part of his life on a farm near Chapin.
